INTRODUCTION:

National Leadership Team Statement on Safeguarding:

The National Leadership Team of Elim are committed to creating healthy churches and safe spaces for all. We recognise the ways in which children and adults can be at risk of harm or abuse, so endeavour to create a culture to minimise opportunities for abuse to occur. This requires having a safeguarding policy that sets out clearly defined principles, standards and guidelines required to keep everyone safe. The policy includes procedures for reporting suspicions or allegations of abuse, as well as practical guidance for safer recruitment, and church wide safeguarding training and supervision for all individuals working with children and adults at risk.

We recognise the need to provide a safe and caring environment for all including children, young people and adults at risk of harm. Children rely on adults to keep them safe, therefore all our churches working with children, either directly or indirectly, should be committed to safeguarding children in their care. We seek to do this by providing a safe, stable, and nurturing environment where children can reach their full potential. Similarly, within our churches there are adults in need of protection, care and support due to vulnerability, whether that is a permanent or temporary state. We are aware too that within our churches there are relationships of trust, which flourish best within healthy churches and environments, where there is openness, transparency and accountability.

As a denomination, Elim is seeking to build healthy churches in the UK and across the world consisting of a rich diversity of cultures that are open to people of all nationalities, ages and backgrounds. Our churches meet together to worship God and to care for one another whilst also seeking to reach out to people in their immediate community, the wider area and across the world. We do this through an extensive variety of activities, which may include, among other things, Sunday services, small groups, educational programmes, medical aid, alleviation of poverty and activities for the elderly, adults at risk of harm, children and young people. As part of our mission we also have departments who seek to prepare and equip people for ministry in the local church, the workplace and for overseas mission.

We firmly believe that safeguarding is everyone's responsibility, and all involved in the life of our churches and activities have a role to play in keeping children, young people and adults safe.

One Church Safeguarding Policy

This safeguarding policy covers the care and protection of children and adults, through the multiplicity of ways people connect with Elim churches, missions, groups and activities; including through digital platforms online such as social networking services and social media.

Statement of our commitment to safeguarding

Reflecting on our mission of being ‘One Movement, One Mission’ we have produced this overarching safeguarding policy for the protection, care and well-being of everyone across all Elim activities in recognition that we work with children and young people, with adults who may be vulnerable or at risk, with victims and survivors of abuse and neglect and with those who pose a risk of harm to children and adults.

Contacting the National Safeguarding Team

It is imperative that contact be made with the National Safeguarding Team when a local church is faced with any safeguarding issue. They are available in the first instance for advice and support. They should also be contacted where any safeguarding concern has implications for the reputation or good standing of Elim. This is to ensure that any response is open, transparent and involves the statutory safeguarding authorities; it also provides for the necessary quality assurance required by Elim International Centre.

This is for the purpose of ensuring that the appropriate course of action has been taken. Where a safeguarding matter involves a church worker, then such a response may include initiating complaints or disciplinary procedures in addition to following safeguarding protocols.

Elim General Superintendent

KTLCC CHURCH STATEMENT

Our Commitment to Safeguarding at KTLCC:

As the Leadership, we recognise the need to provide a safe and caring environment for children, young people and adults. We recognise the importance of our ministry with children, young people and adults and our responsibility to protect everyone entrusted to our care. We believe every child should be valued, safe and happy. We want to make sure that children we have contact with know this and are empowered to tell us if they are suffering harm. All children and young people have the right to be treated with respect, to be listened to and to be protected from all forms of abuse. Adults in our church should be enabled to live fulfilling, autonomous lives, and should have access to every aspect of church life. The care and protection of children, young people and adults involved in church is the responsibility of the whole church. As a leadership, we endeavour to make our church a safe environment for all.

We will review this statement, our policy and procedures annually and as and when necessary.

The following statement was agreed by the church leadership:

- We recognise that we all have a responsibility to help prevent the abuse and neglect of children and adults and to report any such abuse or neglect that we discover or suspect.
- We are committed to the safeguarding of children and adults and ensuring their well-being. We recognise that children and adults can be the victims of physical, sexual and emotional abuse, as well as financial and discriminatory abuse and other forms of harm such as exploitation and neglect.
- We endorse and adopt the policy, procedures and guidance set out in this safeguarding policy in accordance with governments' national legislation, statutory guidance and local safeguarding procedures, along with guidance issued by Elim nationally through the National Safeguarding Team.

Working with Safeguarding Authorities

- We recognise the role that the statutory safeguarding authorities (Adult Social Care, Children's Social Care and the Police) have in investigating all suspicions and allegations or discovery of child abuse and the abuse of adults and will cooperate fully with all agencies to protect those at risk of harm or abuse:
 - Children's Social Care (or equivalent) has lead responsibility for investigating all allegations or suspicions of abuse where there is a concern about a child.
 - Adult Social Care (or equivalent) has lead responsibility for investigating all allegations or suspicions of abuse when concerned about the welfare of an adult.
 - Where an allegation suggests that a criminal offence may have been committed then the police should be contacted as a matter of urgency.

- Having liaised with the statutory authorities, we will inform National Safeguarding coordinator, Sarah Bale.
 - We will follow the requirements for UK legislation in relation to safeguarding children and adults and good practice recommendations.
 - We will act in accordance with national and local safeguarding guidance such as laid out in Working Together to Safeguard Children 2023 and acknowledge that “safeguarding children is everyone’s responsibility” and that “everyone who comes into contact with children and families has a role to play”.
 - We will liaise with the local statutory safeguarding partnerships such as the Local Safeguarding Children Partnerships (LSCP), Safeguarding Adult Board (SAB) or any other local safeguarding mechanisms.
 - We are committed to building constructive links with statutory and voluntary agencies involved in safeguarding and sharing relevant information.

Promoting a Healthy Church Culture

- We respect the rights of children as described in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. We value and respect children and want to hear their voices.
- We accept the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the International Covenant of Human Rights, which states that everyone is entitled to “all the rights and freedoms set forth therein, without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status”.
- We understand the importance of creating a welcoming and inclusive, safe and healthy environment and are committed to ensuring that we meet the requirements of the Equality Act 2010, implementing all other relevant legislation as part of safeguarding.
- We recognise the personal dignity and rights of adults and will ensure all our policies and procedures and practice guidance reflect this, so that adults can have access to every aspect of the life of our church.
- We are committed to supporting parents and families and ensuring that our church is a safe place for all.
- The church has appointed a Head of Safeguarding (Emma Aiyere) as point of reference, to act on all allegations or suspicions of abuse in reporting to the statutory safeguarding authorities. A Safeguarding Team ably supports her in her role. In our commitment to openness, should anyone have a concern that our church or the Head of Safeguarding have not dealt appropriately with a safeguarding concern we would encourage that person to make contact with Elim’s National Safeguarding Team or to make a direct referral to Social Care or the Police.

Commitment to those Serving Children and Adults

- We commit to providing safeguarding training and development opportunities for all our workers (paid and voluntary) and will regularly review the training needs. We will also support, resource, monitor and provide supervision to all those who undertake work with children or adults, and those in positions of trust.
- We also commit to providing induction training for all those working with children and adults.
- We take seriously our responsibility for ensuring that everyone is safe in our care and that their dignity and rights are maintained.

Safeguarding under Specific Circumstances

- We commit to supporting, listening to, and working towards healing for everyone affected; either directly or indirectly by any form of abuse.
- We are a welcoming church, which recognises that in following the mission of the church we may have sexual offenders join us. In such circumstances we will talk with the person concerned, and with any safeguarding professional involved to ensure that their involvement in church does not compromise the safety and well-being of children or adults. To ensure this, we will take appropriate and proportionate measures, including working with relevant partners to complete a risk assessment and asking the individual to adhere to a safeguarding agreement.
- We recognise the personal dignity and rights of adults who find themselves victims of forced marriage or modern slavery and will ensure all our policies and procedures reflect this.
- KTLCC have churches and mission work outside of UK such as Italy, France, Brazil, Romania, Middle East and Africa (Burkina Faso, Chad, Senegal, Kenya, Nigeria, Uganda, Sierra Leone, Mali etc.). Where there are safeguarding concerns in these countries / regions, these concerns will be reported to the International Missions Director (Marty Davidson; see contact details on Page 4) who will liaise with the National Safeguarding Team in addressing any safeguarding concerns following the Elim Missions safeguarding procedures.
- KTLCC also run an International Bible Institute of London (IBIOL) which was founded in 1985. Where there are safeguarding concerns in the Bible School, these concerns will be reported to the KTLCC Head of Safeguarding who will liaise with the Senior Minister (Reverend Malcolm Duncan) and National Safeguarding Team in addressing any safeguarding concerns following KTLCC Safeguarding Policy.

- KTLCC also have 28 churches across London under the leadership of three (3) Apostolic Overseers: Jeremy Busk (LCC South), Tayo Awoyera (LCC North) and Marcelo Albuquerque (LCC Non-English-speaking churches). Where there are safeguarding concerns in these churches, the Safeguarding Officer in the church will liaise with the Regional Head of Safeguarding (Emma Aiyere) to address the concern. If the concern is serious, KTLCC Head of Safeguarding will liaise with the Regional Leader (Reverend Malcolm Duncan) and the National Safeguarding Team to address the concern following KTLCC Safeguarding Policy.
 - KTLCC run 589 cell groups. Where there are safeguarding concerns in the cell group, the leader of the cell group will report the concern to KTLCC Head of Safeguarding who will liaise with the Senior Minister (Reverend Malcolm Duncan) and National Safeguarding Team in addressing any safeguarding concerns following KTLCC Safeguarding Policy.
 - Where an allegation or suspicion of abuse is made against someone working with children, or adults, or is in a position of trust, then the Head of safeguarding will make contact with the Regional Leader (Reverend Malcolm Duncan) and the National Safeguarding Team for advice.

Working with Elim Nationally

- Where the Head of Safeguarding is unsure what action to take, then it is the expectation of the Leadership that advice will be sought from the National Safeguarding Team at Elim International Centre, and that the Head of Safeguarding would follow the mechanisms or actions recommended by Elim.
- Any contact with Social Services or any other Statutory Safeguarding authority must be declared to National Safeguarding Coordinator, Sarah Bale.
- A copy of our safeguarding policy has been lodged with the National Safeguarding Team at Elim International Centre and all updates to the policy will be sent at least annually.

Safeguarding Policy

- It is the expectation that all those working with children and with adults have access to the church safeguarding policy and will have read it and agreed to fully adhere to the policy, procedures and practice guidelines, as condition of continuing in their role.
- The safeguarding policy should also be available to parents, carers and all others within the church.

In providing this detailed statement about safeguarding children and adults within our church, in the services, groups and activities we provide, along with the interaction we have outside of these events, including through social media and other electronic communication means, we hope to demonstrate our commitment to ensuring the safety of all. We endeavour to provide a healthy and safe church culture where the welfare of the child, young person and adult is paramount.

Whilst recognising that the very nature of safeguarding means that we have to respond to allegations both sensitively and confidentially, this does not mean secretively. We strive to be open, transparent and accountable. This means seeking advice and liaising with Social Care, Police and other agencies as necessary.

Signed on 11 June 2025 by or on behalf of the Leadership

Malcolm Duncan

Apostolic Leader / Senior Minister, KTLCC

SAFEGUARDING PROCEDURES

Safeguarding Awareness

Child abuse or abuse against an adult can be a difficult and complex issue to understand. A person may abuse or neglect by inflicting harm or failing to prevent harm. Children and adults in need of protection may be abused within a family, an institution or a community setting. Very often, the abuser is known or is in a trusted relationship with the child or adult. Research shows that abuse can be perpetrated by males and females, by adults and by children, as well as those in positions of trust and authority. Sadly, people in such positions have misused their power and authority within churches to abuse.

'Position of trust' is a legal term that refers to certain roles and settings where an adult has regular and direct contact with children. In 2022, changes to the law in England, Wales and Northern Ireland were made, extending the definition of 'positions of trust' to include faith group leaders. This refers to faith leaders in any capacity, including volunteers. It is against the law for someone in a position of trust to engage in sexual activity with a child in their care, even if that child is over the age of consent (16 or over).

The four main categories of child abuse are physical abuse, emotional abuse, sexual abuse and neglect. It is important to note that a child may be suffering from more than one form of abuse. Safeguarding professionals must assess if they need to intervene in order to protect a child and this is based on whether it is felt a child is suffering from, or likely to suffer from, significant harm. There are other forms of abuse recently explicitly recognised such as 'Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE)' or 'Child Criminal Exploitation (CCE)' which come under these four main headings when instigating a child protection plan.

Adults are in need of protection due to physical abuse, sexual abuse, psychological abuse (which includes emotional abuse) and neglect (including self-neglect) as well as financial abuse, institutional abuse, discriminatory abuse, modern slavery, trafficking and domestic violence. Detailed definitions, signs, and symptoms of abuse, are included in the appendices.

Another type of abuse recognised is 'Spiritual abuse' which could affect both children and adults.

As a Leadership, we will endeavour to ensure that children and adults are provided with information on where to get help and advice in relation to abuse, discrimination, bullying or any other matter of concern. We recognise that for many victims/survivors of abuse, where the abuse has taken/takes place within the context of the church or by someone professing a Christian faith, it can have an impact on their spiritual development.

Head of Safeguarding

The Leadership have appointed a Head of Safeguarding (supported by a Safeguarding Team) to respond to any safeguarding concern or suspicion of abuse. The Leadership fully supports them in their role of acting in the best interest of the child or adult and reporting to the statutory authorities all allegations or suspicions of abuse.

Responding to allegations or suspicions of abuse

All safeguarding concerns should be immediately reported to the Head of Safeguarding or any member of the Safeguarding Team in the church. No one in receipt of a disclosure of abuse, or suspicion of abuse should investigate the matter.

As a Leadership, we have nominated Emma Aiyere as the Head of Safeguarding for both children & adults.

She is to act as our Head of Safeguarding on behalf of the church in dealing with any allegation or suspicion of abuse or neglect, including referring the matter on to the statutory authorities.

In the absence of the Head of Safeguarding, then the report should be made to a member of the Safeguarding Team.

In the absence of the Head of Safeguarding or any member of the safeguarding team, seek advice from the Senior Minister (Reverend Malcolm Duncan) or member of the Senior Leadership Team, who will then contact the National Safeguarding Team.

Where someone has passed information to the Head of Safeguarding or any member of the safeguarding team and believe this has not been responded to appropriately, then they should make a direct referral to Social Services or the Police. As a Leadership, we make this statement to demonstrate our commitment to safeguarding children and adults.

If unsure whether to report a matter to Social Services or the Police, advice should be sought from the National Safeguarding Team (see contact details on Page 4)

Role of Head of Safeguarding / Safeguarding Team

The Head of Safeguarding (or in her absence, a member of the Safeguarding Team) will collate and clarify the precise details of the allegation or suspicion of abuse and where abuse is suspected will pass this information onto the statutory authorities who have a legal duty to investigate.

Where the concern is about a child, the Head of Safeguarding will contact Children's Social Care.

Where the concern is about an adult in need of protection, the Head of Safeguarding will contact Adult Social Care.

Where concerned that a crime may have been committed, or where concerned about the immediate danger of a child or an adult then contact should be made to the Police dialling 999, or through making contact with the Police Child Protection Team.

PRACTICE GUIDELINES

Welcoming environment

Our churches should be safe places for everyone, children and adults, where all feel welcomed, valued, respected and cared for. We can promote this by ensuring that our buildings are accessible, recognising the limitations that the design of some buildings create and addressing this, along with the acoustics and lighting. We should also be careful to use appropriate language and suitable vocabulary that can often reflect people's attitudes towards others.

Church is not simply meeting for collective worship on a Sunday, but can involve many different groups and activities, across the age range, throughout the week, and at different times day and night. We can work with children and young people through children's groups, Sunday school classes, youth meetings, communicating online by text, social media, and app services. Our work with adults at risk of harm can include through foodbanks (KT Food Hub), money advice, homeless projects, luncheon clubs for older people and we can connect with young people and adults through Street Pastors and other community outreach projects. Our church activities are not confined solely to a church building and we can meet in people's homes for Bible reading or other activities. Church also involves camping, and residential or outdoor activities. We also provide pastoral care in people's homes and counselling support. With the various activities we are involved in as a church, it is important that we understand the safeguarding considerations and undertake risk assessments for the various activities, enforcing clear guidelines for all in positions of trust in church.

As a church working with children, young people and adults we wish to operate and promote good working practice. This will enable workers to run activities safely, develop good relationships and minimise the risk of false accusation.

Safer recruitment

This is preventing harm through screening to ensure we deter those who are unsuitable to work with children and adults-at-risk while carefully selecting those who are suitable to work with children and adults.

As a Leadership, we will ensure all workers are appointed, trained, supported and supervised in accordance with government guidance on safer recruitment.

This includes ensuring that:

- There is a written job description / person specification for the post
- Those applying have completed an application form and a self-declaration form
- Those short listed have been interviewed
- Safeguarding has been discussed at interview

- Two written references have been obtained, and followed up where appropriate
 - Qualifications where relevant have been verified
 - A criminal record check (Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check or equivalent) has been obtained in accordance with the position that the person has applied for, where necessary
 - As a church we will comply with the Code of Practice requirements concerning the fair treatment of applicants and the handling of information
 - A suitable training (including safeguarding training) and induction programme is provided for the successful applicant
 - The applicant has access to, and has read the church safeguarding policy and knows how to report concerns to the Head of Safeguarding or the Safeguarding Team
 - The applicant has completed a probationary period
 - Suitable ongoing support and supervision is provided
 - An annual suitability declaration is completed

Further details of safer recruitment can be found on ELIMNET.

ONLINE SAFETY POLICY

Online safety refers to safeguarding practices that involve the use of electronic devices and digital platforms for communication and internet access—commonly known as Information and Communications Technology (ICT). This policy applies to all online interactions between church or organisation workers and children (under 18), young people, or vulnerable adults.

The Church's Commitment to Online Safety

Recognising that digital communication is an essential part of modern life—especially for children, young people, and vulnerable adults—the Church commits to the following principles to promote safety and wellbeing:

- All digital communication must be appropriate, transparent, and accountable.
- Leaders and volunteers must use official church accounts and platforms for ministry-related communication.
- Personal information, photos, or videos of children or vulnerable adults will only be shared online with informed consent from a parent, guardian, or the individual, in line with GDPR regulations.
- Online group activities (e.g. Bible studies, youth meetings) must be moderated by at least two approved adults, with attendance recorded and monitored.

- Any concerns regarding inappropriate online behaviour or content must be reported immediately to the Head of Safeguarding or a safeguarding team member.
 - The Church will provide relevant training and resources for staff, volunteers, and parents to support safe and responsible digital engagement.

Guidelines for Church Workers and Volunteers

To ensure responsible and ethical communication, workers and volunteers should:

- Maintain open, transparent communication with parents and carers about interactions with their children.
- Use a friendly but professional tone; avoid over-familiar or overly personal messages.
- Avoid suggesting special or exclusive relationships with children or young people.
- Communicate clearly, avoiding abbreviations or informal language that may be misunderstood.
- Be cautious to prevent any behaviour that could be misinterpreted or seen as grooming.
- Do not share or request personal information beyond what is required for your role.
- Share only official church contact details that are publicly available.
- If a child shares personal contact details (e.g., mobile number, email), ensure parental awareness and consent.
- Contact children only for ministry-related purposes and maintain a log of all digital communication (e.g., emails, texts).
- Use church-provided equipment whenever possible when engaging with children online.
- Respect a child's confidentiality, except when there are concerns about abuse or harm.
- Ensure all church internet communications include the church domain name or logo to reflect official representation.
- Use email solely to communicate practical information, not to develop personal relationships.
- Keep and date all email correspondence.
- Limit digital communication to between 9am and 5pm. Avoid any contact after 9pm unless approved by a leader.
- Avoid one-to-one video calls (e.g. Skype, webcams). These may only be used for group settings with clear objectives, and only when appropriate safeguards are in place.

Respecting Cultural Diversity

We celebrate and embrace the rich cultural diversity within our congregation and wider community. As part of our safeguarding commitment, we recognise that everyone—regardless of culture, ethnicity, language, or background—has the right to feel safe, respected, and valued.

To this end, the Church commits to:

- Promoting an inclusive and welcoming environment where diversity is respected and protected.
- Ensuring safeguarding practices are culturally sensitive, recognising and respecting different cultural expressions of care, discipline, and family structure.
- Providing accessible safeguarding information and support for individuals from diverse backgrounds, including the use of interpreters or translated materials when necessary.
- Encouraging volunteers and staff to undertake cultural awareness training as part of their safeguarding responsibilities.

Discrimination, prejudice, or cultural insensitivity will not be tolerated in any form, and concerns about such behaviour will be treated as safeguarding issues.

Online Grooming

Online grooming is a serious safeguarding concern. It refers to the process by which someone builds an emotional connection with a child or vulnerable person online to gain their trust for the purposes of exploitation or abuse.

The Church is committed to protecting individuals from this threat by:

- Educating children, parents, and church workers about the signs and dangers of online grooming.
- Encouraging open conversations and providing safe spaces for young people and vulnerable adults to raise concerns.
- Ensuring that all online ministry activity is supervised by trained adults and follows clear boundaries and communication protocols.
- Reporting any suspicions or disclosures of grooming immediately to the Head of Safeguarding or any member of the safeguarding team and, where appropriate, to statutory authorities.

All church workers and volunteers must complete safeguarding training that includes specific guidance on recognising and responding to online grooming.

Social Media Policy

Social media refers to online platforms and applications that allow users to create, share, and interact with content, and to connect with others through networks and communities. These platforms are designed for communication, collaboration, and content sharing, often in real time.

Key Features of Social Media:

- User-generated content (posts, photos, videos, etc.)
- Interaction (likes, comments, shares, messaging)
- Profiles and networks (connecting with friends, followers, or professional contacts)
- Real-time updates and engagement

Common Examples:

- Facebook – social networking and sharing personal updates
- Instagram – photo and video sharing
- X (formerly Twitter) – short-form posts and news updates
- TikTok – short videos and viral content
- LinkedIn – professional networking
- YouTube – video content sharing and streaming

Social media is widely used for communication, entertainment, education, marketing, activism, and more—but also raises concerns around privacy, online safety, misinformation, and mental health.

The Church is committed to protecting individuals from this threat by ensuring the following:

- All social media interaction between workers, paid or voluntary, and children under 18 shall be limited to monitored/administrated groups.
- Text and any other media posted shall be subject to the acceptable use policy.
- All interaction on social media groups shall be recorded for safeguarding purposes.
- Any private messages shall be recorded for safeguarding purposes.
- Any safeguarding concerns/allegations arising from social media shall be referred onto the safeguarding co-ordinator.
- All users of social media must be above the minimum age limit i.e. 13 for Facebook
- Workers should ensure their privacy setting ensure the highest levels of security in order to restrict children being able to see any more than what is relevant to communication within the group.
- All social media groups should provide links to statutory authorities such as CEOP, to enable children to report online abuse.

Photographic images and videos online

Photographic images and videos online refer to digital pictures and recordings that are uploaded, shared, or viewed through internet-connected platforms or websites. These can include:

1. Photographic Images

- Still pictures captured with digital cameras, smartphones, or other devices.

- Commonly shared on social media (e.g. Instagram, Facebook), websites, blogs, and messaging apps.
 - Can be personal (e.g., selfies, family photos) or professional (e.g., promotional, journalistic).

2. Videos

- Moving images with or without sound, created using cameras or mobile devices.
- Shared through platforms like YouTube, TikTok, Instagram, Facebook, or live-streamed.
- Used for entertainment, education, communication, or documentation.

Online Considerations

- Privacy: Once posted online, images and videos can be copied, shared, or misused.
- Consent: It's important to have permission before posting images or videos of others, especially children or vulnerable individuals.
- Data protection: Under laws like GDPR, sharing images or videos without consent can violate privacy rights.
- Digital footprint: Uploaded media often remains online permanently and may be searchable.

Consent for photographic images and videos online

- Photographs that include children will be selected carefully and will endeavour to prevent children from being easily identified.
- Children's full names will not be used on the website in association with their photographs.
- Permission will be sought before any images are taken or displayed and images will only be used for the specific purpose for which permission was sought for and how the image will be stored if not destroyed. If the intention is to use an image on the internet this must be clearly stated and further permission must be acquired if an image is to be used in a way not originally stated.
- Use of images will reflect diversity of age, ethnicity and gender of the activity.
- Live streaming of church services and events must be clearly advertised in advance, and where children are involved permission should be sought in line with the photographic guidelines.
- The KT building provides a designated seating area for individuals who do not wish to be filmed or photographed during live-streamed services or for use on social media platforms. For further information or assistance, please speak with a pastor or a member of the reception team.

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY

Definition of bullying

The repetitive, intentional hurting of one person or group by another person or group, where the relationship involves an imbalance of power. It can happen face to face or through cyber space.

Objectives of this policy

- All children, workers, parents and carers should be aware of the anti-bullying policy within the organisation and what they should do if bullying arises
- All workers should have an understanding of what bullying is, be aware of possible signs if it is happening and follow the policy when it is reported
- Children and parents/carers should be assured that they will be supported when bullying is reported

Prevention

Strategies can be adopted to prevent bullying. As and when appropriate, these may include:

- Writing a set of group rules
- Signing a behaviour contract
- Having discussions about bullying and why it matters.

Procedures

- Report the bullying incident to children's leaders.
- Ensure that details are carefully checked before action is taken.
- In all cases of bullying, the incidents should be recorded by the worker.
- Consideration should be given to informing the parents/carers of the bully, but this should only be done if workers are satisfied there is no bullying/abuse going on at home that might exacerbate the situation.
- If it is thought that an offence has been committed, consideration should be given to contacting the police.
- The bullying behaviour or threats of bullying must be investigated and stopped quickly.
- Help should be offered to help the bully address his/her behaviour.

Outcomes

- The children's worker involved in dealing with the incident should issue a warning to the child concerned.
- An apology should be given by the child who has bullied another.
- If possible, those involved will be reconciled.
- After the incident has been investigated and dealt with, the situation should be monitored to ensure repeated bullying does not take place.

- After the incident(s) have been investigated parents/carers should be informed of the action taken.
 - All incidents must be recorded in the logbook.

CODES OF CONDUCT

Codes of Conduct

As a Leadership, we are committed to supporting all workers and ensuring they receive support and supervision. All workers will be issued with a code of conduct towards children, young people and adults. A code of conduct towards children, young people and adults should be drawn up in consultation with the Head of Safeguarding and activity leaders that all workers agree to follow. It is important there is a culture of dignity and respect towards those being cared for.

This can be achieved by workers:

- understanding our safeguarding policy and good working practice
- listening to children, young people and adults
- respecting boundaries and the privacy of those being cared for
- knowing how to deal with issues of discipline in line with our code of conduct

Providing pastoral care

It is important that anyone seeking pastoral care knows exactly what to expect in terms of good conduct, that those caring for them are accountable and that any boundaries set are respected.

In addition:

- Those providing pastoral care should avoid any behaviour that may give the impression of favouritism
- Workers should be aware of the limits of their own ability and competence and seek further help when dealing with situations outside their expertise
- There should be clear guidelines where workers are involved in any aspect of personal finance such as collecting benefits or pension or going shopping for someone to ensure financial integrity.

Training and Supervision

All workers (whether paid or voluntary), will be provided with appropriate training and given the opportunity to develop their skills so that they feel supported and valued in the work they undertake. As a Leadership, we commit to ensuring all workers are supervised (where possible) by a named individual who arranges regular meetings) where concerns or issues can be raised, work related or personal. It is also the role of the supervisor to ensure all training needs are met.

Team Meetings

The leadership recognises the importance of team meetings. These should be convened on a regular basis and should provide an opportunity for ideas and issues to be aired, concerns expressed and feedback given.

Confidentiality

Every effort should be made to ensure that confidentiality is preserved; this needs to be balanced with the need to protect a person who has been or is at risk of abuse. All those working with adults must be clear that it is not possible to keep information about suspected or actual abuse confidential. In order to protect the adult at risk of harm, or others at potential risk means that this will need to be reported to the Head of Safeguarding.

Self-determination and independence

Adults have a right to self-determination and independence. No one should be making decisions for anyone except in particular circumstances. Where, for example, the mental capacity of the individual is impaired, where a crime is being committed, or where children may be harmed because of adults' inaction then the matter will need to be reported to the Head of Safeguarding. Sometimes an adult can put themselves in situations that others would judge to be inappropriate or abusive in the exercising of their own choice and autonomy. In such circumstances, where unsure what actions to take, the Head of Safeguarding should seek advice from the National Safeguarding Team.

Supporting those affected by abuse

As a leadership we are committed to offering pastoral care and support to individuals who are part of our church or who we have contact with who may have been affected by abuse, working with statutory agencies as appropriate.

We recognise that pastoral care needs differ from person to person and by the nature of the harm that a person has endured. Those affected by abuse are often dealing with complex issues, recognising this, we offer pastoral care and support and would seek (providing the individual has given permission) to contact counselling agencies, as required.

Departments and activities within Elim

All departments and activities within Elim are expected to adhere to the national safeguarding policy and to develop safeguarding guidelines (procedures and practice guidance) for the protection of children and adults at risk of harm. This includes, but is not limited to; Elim International Missions, Regents Theological College, Limitless Children's and Youth Ministry (including festivals and national and youth events), all Regional Elim Family Gatherings (River Camp, Ignite and all other Elim festivals and camps).

Wherever an activity is undertaken on behalf of Elim involving children, young people or adults at risk, suitable safeguarding arrangements should be followed.

Where working in partnership with other churches or groups e.g. ecumenical youth event, the Elim church should ensure there is a suitable safeguarding policy, which includes reporting to the National Safeguarding Team in instances where safeguarding allegations are made against an Elim worker (whether in paid or voluntary employment).

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CHURCHES

Each Elim church must

- Adopt and implement a safeguarding policy and related procedures and practice guidelines
- Ensure that all those who are in a position of authority or trust or are authorised to work with children, young people or adults have been safely recruited to their role. This means they have been provided with support and supervision in undertaking their roles.
- Ensure that all workers have undertaken safeguarding training on appointment and at least once every two years thereafter, and been given a copy of the church safeguarding policy.
- Appoint a Head of Safeguarding and a Safeguarding Team.

The Head of Safeguarding should

- Report all allegations, suspicions or discovery of abuse to the statutory safeguarding authorities concerned with child protection and adult protection e.g. Children's Social Care, Adult Social Care, the Police
- Inform the minister in charge about any safeguarding concern

- Inform and/or seek advice from the National Safeguarding Team about any safeguarding concern
 - Inform the regional leader about any safeguarding concern
 - Contact the National Safeguarding Coordinator about any safeguarding matter that requires contact with the church insurers or may require reporting to the charity commission. This would include any allegations against workers, including volunteers or injury to a person while under the care of the church or in church premises or any action or inaction that could cause reputational damage to the church or charity
 - Contact the National Safeguarding Team, along with the statutory authorities where an allegation or suspicion of abuse involves a church worker
 - Where the worker is engaged in ‘regulated activity’, the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) [or similar person across UK] will need to be contacted
 - Where a worker with children or adults is removed from regulated activity because of risk of harm, or resigns or retires prior to dismissal, or is dismissed then a referral to the DBS (or Access NI, Disclosure Scotland) must be made for barring consideration. This also includes where a worker/volunteer has left their position because of actions outside of their role, which indicate they may not be suitable to work with vulnerable groups.
 - Any allegation, of a safeguarding nature, or concern raised about a worker (including volunteers) whether or not they are engaged in regulatory activity must be reported to the National Safeguarding Team within 1 working day of the allegation being made or concern raised.
 - Liaise with Police Public Protection Teams, MAPPA agencies etc. and contact the National Safeguarding Team when working with someone who may present as a current risk to children or adults e.g. a sex offender attending church.

Each Elim Church Incorporated should:

Follow the guidance issued above, and additionally, report directly to the Charity Commission or equivalent charity regulator, where dealing with a safeguarding issue deemed to be a serious incident. In addition, they should contact the National Safeguarding Team, seek advice and make them aware of the safeguarding concern.

ELIM INTERNATIONAL MISSIONS

Elim International Missions

The Elim safeguarding policy applies to all our Elim International Missions workers and volunteers overseas, whether planting or establishing churches within local communities, visiting on short-term mission or placed as a long-term missionary in our many locations around the world.

Whilst recognising that the cultures, within which international missions are often working may adopt different standards to the care and treatment of children, young people and adults at risk, the standards and principles adopted within the UK are expected to apply in international mission situations. The maltreatment of children and young people is contrary to Biblical values and practices and therefore cannot be tolerated.

Due regard will need to be given to the cultures within which activities are taking place, however under the expectation of applying UK standards to the practice of missions' workers, some guidance may be useful.

Workers should:

- be able to recognise situations which may present risks
- plan and organise the work and workplace so as to minimise risks as far as possible and be visible to other adults when working and talking with children
- take particular care for the needs of children with disabilities and vulnerable children as research has shown that abuse can often go unrecognised and unreported due to people's attitudes and assumptions about disability
- ensure that others know where interviews of children are taking place and that someone else is around in the building

Workers should not:

- spend excessive time alone with children
- take children to their personal home, or stay overnight, especially where they will be alone with you
- leave any person under 18 in charge of any children of any age, nor should children or young people attending any group be left alone at any time
- hit or otherwise physically assault children including the use of corporal punishment
- develop physical/sexual relationships with children
- develop relationships with children which could in any way be deemed exploitative or abusive
- use language, make suggestions or offer advice, which is inappropriate, offensive or abusive.

- act in ways intended to shame, humiliate, belittle or degrade children, or otherwise perpetrate any form of emotional abuse, discriminate against, show differential treatment, or favour particular children to the exclusion of others.

Responding & Reporting Mechanisms

The Elim International Director acts as the Designated Safeguarding Coordinator for all mission related activities. They are responsible for safer recruitment including DBS disclosures and for ensuring that applicants are fully apprised of the safeguarding policy. All incidents, allegations or concerns must be reported to the Director who will then liaise with the appropriate authorities to ensure good practice is followed in relation to the reporting of any allegations of abuse. The Designated Safeguarding Coordinator will seek advice from the National Safeguarding Coordinator about all safeguarding concerns.

Where an allegation is made against a worker (whether located long-term on mission or visiting on short-term mission), the Director must be informed immediately. They will then ensure that appropriate action will be taken including convening a Crisis Management Team, as appropriate.

If an allegation is made against a worker, that worker must be removed from their duties or prevented from having any further contact with children and young people or adults at risk immediately whilst necessary action is taken.

Due regard must always be taken of the laws and frameworks in place within any country in which Elim operates. In many cases, practice, values and beliefs in relation to safeguarding will be different to the UK. However, care must always be taken to ensure that the rights of the individuals concerned are upheld (see the UN Convention on Human Rights and UN Convention on the Rights of the Child).

The local and legal context must be taken into consideration when responding to any safeguarding situation to ensure that actions do not increase the risk of harm to the child, alleged perpetrator, the mission and its personnel, or to the local church. It needs to be considered whether a report of a concern will be responded to appropriately e.g. does the country have safeguarding legislation in place?

Where repatriation of the alleged perpetrator is deemed necessary then the safeguarding authorities within the UK should be informed.

Regents Theological College

Regents Theological College (RTC) provides a gateway to the ministry for many who then become Elim church leaders and pastors. Among the many courses that are taught, there are a number that are vocational or ministerial in their focus and delivery, often involving placements in places of worship, missions and other faith-based organisations and activities.

These vocational courses might confer upon graduates the expectation or opportunity to work in places where they might be in contact with children and adults at risk of harm. Therefore, all potential students will be required to have a DBS criminal record check. Character references and a DBS disclosure will be required for all prospective students once given a conditional offer to study at RTC.

Where information is declared on a self-declaration form, or is provided on the DBS certificate, the National Safeguarding Coordinator will undertake a risk assessment based on the information to determine suitability of the person prior to final acceptance onto the course.

Elim Conference Centre

Elim Conference Centre offers accommodation and events to a variety of different groups. This can include children and adults at risk and range from individuals booking overnight accommodation to organised groups hiring the conference facilities.

Any safeguarding concern involving delegates and guests using the Conference Centre should be reported immediately to the National Safeguarding Team.

ADOPTION OF THE POLICY

The Leadership Team will review this policy annually, amending and updating it as required, and informing the Church Meeting that this has been done.

Appendix A: Terminology

This safeguarding policy covers children and adults. A child is defined as someone under the age of 18; this includes children and young people. As churches operate their children's and youth groups with different age ranges, this policy is not prescriptive and uses the general term of 'child' to describe both children and young people.

An adult is generally defined as someone over the age of 18. The different constituent parts of the UK can have country specific legislation e.g. the age of criminal responsibility. In Scotland, for example, an 'adult at risk' is defined as someone over the age of 16. In England, for concerns about domestic abuse, the legislation is for those 16 and over.

As adult safeguarding systems have developed there has been a move away from using the term 'vulnerable adults', whilst recognising that certain pieces of legislation (e.g. the Police Act 1997) and different agencies use this term. The term 'adult at risk' is generally now replacing the previously used term 'vulnerable adult' (focusing on the situation rather than the characteristics of the adult themselves). The label 'vulnerable adult' may wrongly imply that some of the fault for any abuse lies with the abused adult. The Care Act 2014 does not use the word vulnerable, but rather an 'adult with care and support needs', who is, or is at risk of abuse or neglect. Other descriptions include 'adults at risk' (the Adult Support and Protection (Scotland) Act 2007, Adult Safeguarding Prevention and Protection in Partnership, July (DHSSPS)) and 'adults in need of protection'. 'Adults' is used in this policy to mean adults in need of protection.

This safeguarding policy will use the various terms interchangeably except where referring to specific legislation or government guidance.

Safeguarding is a wider term and encompasses: when referring to children; child protection and the welfare of a child; and when referring to adults; adult protection and welfare. Defining who is an 'adult at risk', or an 'adult in need of care and protection' can be complex as there are many different definitions within legislation; reaching a certain age or having a disability does not necessarily mean that an individual is vulnerable. For example, determining who qualifies for a criminal record disclosure check through the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) is based on a specific definition of who is a vulnerable adult.

The term 'Leadership' is used to refer to the governance arrangement within an Elim church; this may be Pastors and Elders, or Senior Minister and team.

Appendix B: Statutory Definitions of Abuse (Children)

Abuse and neglect are forms of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting, by those known to them or, more rarely, by a stranger. They may be abused by an adult or adults, another child or children.

Child protection legislation throughout the UK is based on the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child. Each nation within the UK has incorporated the convention within its legislation and guidance.

The definitions of abuse below operate in England based on the government guidance 'Working Together to Safeguard Children: a guide to inter-agency working to safeguard and promote the welfare of children' (H M Government December 2023).

Abuse:

A form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse, including where they see, hear or experience its effects. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.

Physical abuse:

A form of abuse that may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

In Scotland and Wales, physical punishment of a child (including hitting, shaking, slapping) is now illegal.

Emotional abuse:

The persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may also involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another individual. It could involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), frequently causing children to feel frightened or in danger, as well as the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, though it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse:

Whether or not the child is aware of what is happening or not involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities. It does not necessarily involve a high level of violence. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Adult males do not solely perpetrate sexual abuse; women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

Neglect:

The persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to:

- provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment)
- protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger
- ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers)
- ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment

It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

There are additional areas of abuse which should also be considered including:

Domestic abuse

An incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening, degrading and violent behaviour, including sexual violence. This is often by a partner or ex-partner but also by family member or carers (Women's Aid, 2022). The Domestic Abuse Act 2023 recognises the impact on a child who sees, hears, or experiences the effects of domestic abuse and treats them as victims of domestic abuse in their own right where they are related to or under parental responsibility of either the abuser or the abused. It is also recognised that young people can experience abuse in their relationships.

Child criminal exploitation (CCE)

Occurs where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child into becoming involved in criminal activity. This is often in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator and/or through violence or the threat of violence. For example, gifts, status in a group or gang, somewhere to live etc. The acts or favours required in return are usually criminal in nature. A child may still have been criminally exploited even if the activity appears to be something that they have agreed or consented to. There are several different types of CCE: Child Sexual Exploitation, county lines, trafficking, modern slavery and money mules. (Safeguarding Network, 2023)

Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE):

Child Sexual Exploitation is a form of child sexual abuse. It occurs where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child or young person under the age of 18 into sexual activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator. The victim may have been sexually exploited even if the sexual activity appears consensual. Child Sexual Exploitation does not always involve physical contact; it can also occur through the use of technology.

County lines

Involves illegal drugs networks between large urban areas, small towns, and rural areas. Intimidation, blackmail, and violence are used to coerce children and young people into transporting and selling items for criminal enterprise such as drugs, cash and weapons. This takes place across countries and the dedicated mobile phones used to make these arrangements are known as the “county/deal lines”.

Modern slavery

This affects anyone no matter what their age and gender. Examples include, human trafficking, exploitation servitude and forced or compulsory marriage. Modern slavery is used as an umbrella term for mostly hidden crime, therefore acquiring a true picture of the situation and its prevalence is challenging.

Trafficking

Moving humans from one place to another with the intention of involving them in forced labour, slavery, or sexual exploitation. This is one of the fastest growing areas of international crime involving gangs and criminal organisations.

Extremism:

Extremism goes beyond terrorism and includes people who target the vulnerable, including the young, by seeking to sow division between communities because of race, faith or denomination. Justify discrimination towards women and girls; persuade others that minorities are inferior; or argue against the primacy of democracy and the rule of law in our society.

Extremism is defined in the Counter Extremism Strategy 2015 as the vocal or active opposition to our fundamental values, including the rule of law, individual liberty and the mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also regard calls for the death of members of our armed forces as extremist.

Appendix D: Statutory Definitions of Abuse (Adults)

Safeguarding Adults is defined in the Care Act 2014 - Chapter 14 Safeguarding and the Care and Support Statutory Guidance Issued under the Care Act 2014 (June 2014).

The legislation is relevant across England and Wales but on occasions applies only to local authorities in England.

The Safeguarding duties apply to an adult who:

- has need for care and support (whether or not the local authority is meeting any of those needs) and;
- is experiencing, or at risk of, abuse or neglect; and
- as a result of those care and support needs is unable to protect themselves from either the risk of, or the experience of abuse or neglect.

Physical Abuse:

Including assault, hitting, slapping, pushing, misuse of medication, restraint or inappropriate physical sanctions.

Domestic Abuse and Violence:

Including psychological, physical, sexual, financial, emotional abuse, so called ‘honour’ based violence. This is also any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence, or abuse between those 16 years or over who are, or have been, intimate partners or family members regardless of gender or sexuality. This might involve but isn’t limited to psychological, sexual, financial, and emotional abuse. The Serious Crimes Act 2015 created a new offence of coercive and controlling behaviour within intimate and familiar relationships.

Sexual Abuse:

Including rape, indecent exposure, sexual harassment, inappropriate looking or touching, sexual teasing or innuendo, sexual photography, subjection to pornography or witnessing sexual acts, indecent exposure and sexual assault or sexual acts to which the adult has not consented or was pressured into consenting.

Psychological Abuse:

Including emotional abuse, threats of harm or abandonment, deprivation of contact, humiliation, blaming, controlling, intimidation, coercion, harassment, verbal abuse, cyber bullying, isolation or unreasonable and unjustified withdrawal of services or supportive networks.

Financial or Material Abuse:

Including theft, fraud, internet scamming, coercion in relation to an adult's financial affairs or arrangements, including in connection with wills, property, inheritance or financial transactions, or the misuse or misappropriation of property, possessions or benefits.

Modern Slavery:

Encompasses slavery, human trafficking, forced labour and domestic servitude. Traffickers and slave masters use whatever means they have at their disposal to coerce, deceive and force individuals into a life of abuse, servitude and inhumane treatment.

Discriminatory Abuse:

Including forms of harassment, slurs or similar treatment because of race, gender and gender identity, age, disability, sexual orientation or religion.

Organisational Abuse:

Including neglect and poor care practice within an institution or specific care setting such as a hospital or care home or in relation to care provided in one's own home. This may range from one off incidents to on-going ill-treatment. It can be through neglect or poor professional practice because (as a result) of the structure, policies, processes and practices within an organisation.

Neglect and Acts of Omission:

Including ignoring medical, emotional or physical care needs, failure to provide access to appropriate health, care and support or educational services, the withholding of the necessities of life, such as medication, adequate nutrition and heating.

Self-Neglect:

This covers a wide range of behaviour neglecting to care for one's personal hygiene, health or surroundings and includes behaviour such as hoarding. Incidents of abuse may be one-off or multiple and affect one person or more.

Appendix F - Responding To A Child Wanting To Talk About Abuse

It is not easy to give precise guidance, but the following may help:

General Points

- Show acceptance of what the child says (however unlikely the story may sound)
- Keep calm
- Look at the child directly
- Be honest
- Tell the child you will need to let someone else know – don't promise confidentiality
- Even when a child has broken a rule, they are not to blame for the abuse
- Be aware that the child may have been threatened or bribed not to tell
- Never push for information. If the child decides not to tell you after all, then accept that and let them know that you are always ready to listen.

Helpful Things You May Say or Show

- I believe you (or showing acceptance of what the child says)
- Thank you for telling me
- It's not your fault
- I will help you

Don't Say

- Why didn't you tell anyone before?
- I can't believe it!
- Are you sure this is true?
- Why? How? When? Who? Where?
- Never make false promises
- Never make statements such as "I am shocked, don't tell anyone else"

Concluding

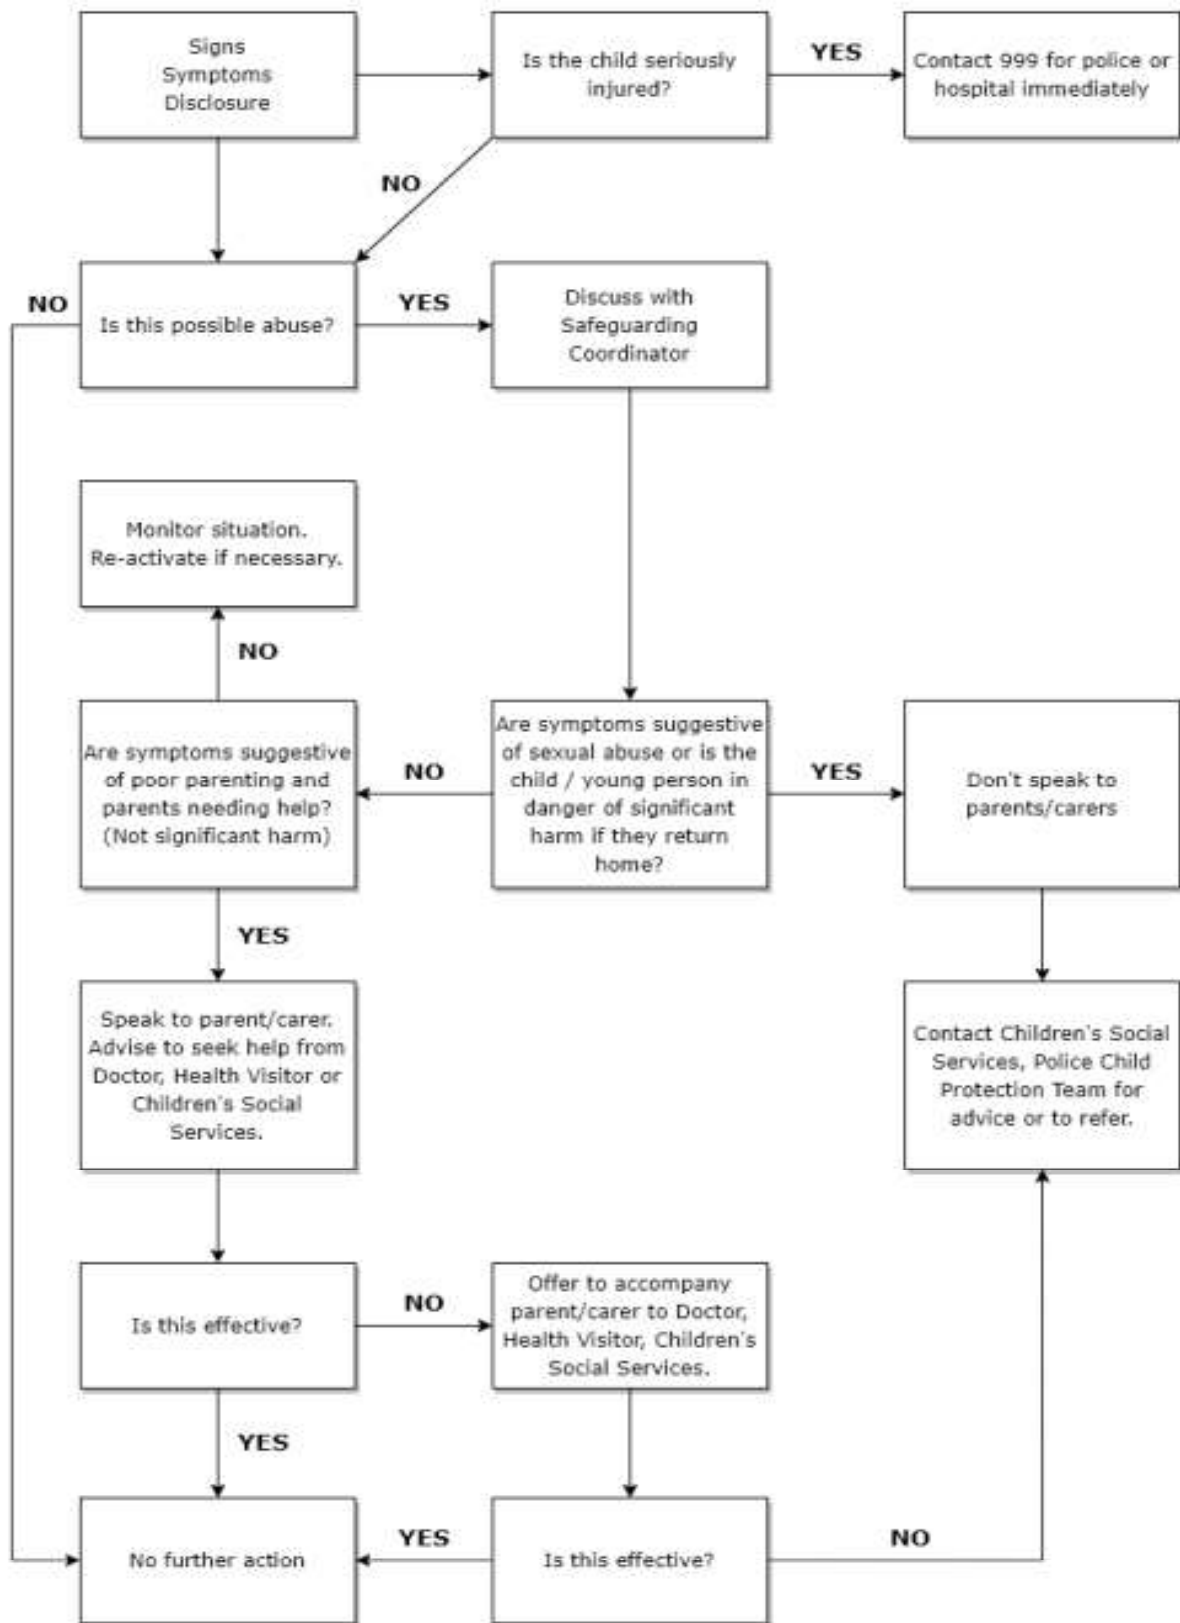

- Again, reassure the child that they were right to tell you and show acceptance.
- Let the child know what you are going to do next and that you will let them know what happens (You might have to consider referring to Local Authority Children's Social Care or the Police to prevent a child or young person returning home if you consider them to be seriously at risk of further abuse).
- Contact the Head of Safeguarding or the Deputy Head of Safeguarding in the absence of the Head of Safeguarding or contact an agency such as thirtyone:eight for advice or go directly to Local Authority Children's Social Care/Police/NSPCC.
- Consider your own feelings and seek pastoral support if needed. It is quite possible that hearing an allegation may affect you in some way and finding an appropriate person to talk to is important. Depending on the nature of the issue, and those involved, you may wish to speak to one of the leaders you relate to. However, you must be mindful of the need to respect privacy, and possibly confidentiality, of those involved/affected. Other

- Sources of support include: the Head of Safeguarding or their deputy; thirtyone:eight and Children's Social Care.

Make notes as soon as possible (preferably within minutes of the child talking to you), writing down exactly what the child said and when s/he said it, what you said in reply and what was happening immediately beforehand (e.g., a description of the activity). Record dates and times of these events and when you made the record. Keep all handwritten notes, even if subsequently typed. Such records should be kept safely for an indefinite period. Copies of 'Important Safeguarding Forms' including Incident forms are kept in the locked cabinet located in the church office.
